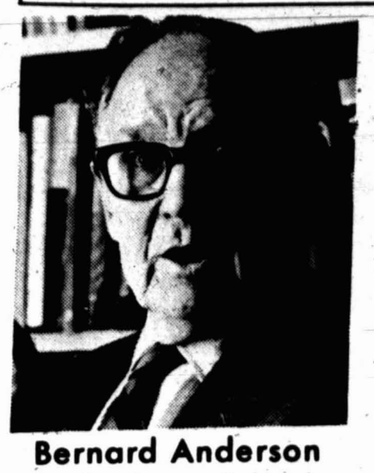
The Candidates



Bernard Anderson

Let's keep Carmel a beautiful and healthy place to live. As a professional forester with 30 years in the United States Forest Service, it has been very rewarding to work toward that end on the Forest Commission. During the last two years since I have been chairman of the Commission, we have completed the Forest Management Plan which will serve as a guide in keeping our forest thriving.

The Commission has received the full cooperation of the city staff and with the expert guidance of City Forester Robert Tate, I feel certain our well-known Cypresses and Monterey Pines will be properly maintained.

Altho many of us enjoy the bright sunshiny appearance of acacias in bloom, they are a weed tree with a tendency to spread, so planting them is not recommended. We have continued yearly distribution of seedling Pines, Cypresses and Redwoods, and since it grows very well in Carmel, this year have added Douglas Fir.

The sprays used by the city to control oak moths and pine diseases do not contain DDT, but do contain a fertilizer which is absorbed through the foliage. Together with root feeding, this is doing much to preserve the health of our urban forest.

I have been active in the Carmel Citizens Committee because it gives the people an opportunity to voice their concern in community affairs. In its uninhibited Town Meeting the citizens are heard. The Committee has had great influence in environmental control — air and water pollution, zoning, and retaining the Carmel advocated by Perry Newberry!

For a dozen years, both on and off the City Council, I have tried to extend what I thought was a happy invitation to a special kind of community togetherness which had first occurred here many years ago, and which was at the same time Carmel's own avenue to greatness.

This has been a proposal to the City Council to take steps to activate its own city-owned theaters — the outdoor Forest Theater, and the indoor Sunset auditorium — instead of simply waiting to rent out occasional uses of the stages at each place.

Innumerable artists, writers, editors, actors, directors, in years past, practiced their separate vocations here and elsewhere, as did local business and professional people of their day, but frequently many focused their common attention upon the various aspects of the theater, particularly upon the presentation of original plays. (Already in 1915, the Forest Theater was justifiably described as "world famous").

Once Jack London was a member of the local group which presented his original play, "The First Poet." At other times, first plays by such future Pulitzer prize winners as Sidney Howard and John Patrick had their world premieres here. A former mayor, the late Bert Heron, not only wrote and produced three original plays, but he also produced, directed, and acted in, series of Shakespearean plays.

Today, at small cost, the City of Carmel could initiate a revival of community effort and community spirit in a city-sponsored effort to present premieres of new plays, and at the same time resume its too long interrupted advance along its own special and original avenue of greatness.

Vote 'YES' on Sewer Bonds Mar. 24

Letters to the editor

The Sewer Bonds

To The Editor:

I have just received my ballot for voting on the $1.5 million bond issue for sewage treatment in Carmel. I find that Mr. Farr's statement against the bond issue is incorrect on some points.

1. He says, "The primary reason for the 600-ft. outfall line is to treat Pebble Beach sewage." This statement, or something similar is widely circulated here in the Carmel area and it is not correct, as I ascertained by contacting the Carmel Sanitary Board. They said "the present outfall discharges effluent at only two feet below ocean level. To secure better diffusion, the 600-ft. outfall will diffuse at 45' below ocean level." This is true of all sewage — Carmel or Pebble Beach. Even with secondary treatment the 600-ft. outfall is necessary.

Can Mr. Farr suggest any other practical way to handle the plant discharge at this time? You know we don't have 5 or 10 years to clean up the pollution — we don't even have 1 year. The State Water Control Board directed the Carmel District to complete the 600-ft. outfall by September 1, 1970!

2. Also to call the contract with the Pebble Beach Sanitary District "unwise" is making a judgment by Mr. Farr that is not substantiated by the facts. With Pebble Beach paying 1/3 of construction and maintenance of the proposed treatment plant, and 1/3 of the obsolescent plant, the cooperative contract is to the financial advantage of both Districts.

3. It is true that many citizens believe, as the Carmel Citizens Committee recommended, that a $2.5 million bond issue would have been justified since the objective is secondary treatment as soon as financially possible, with eventual reclamation of water. However, the Sanitary Board is working actively to secure $1 million from a Federal grant and there is a strong possibility they will be successful. This money will be much more certainly forthcoming if we have shown our determination to take care of a crisis problem. Is there any reason we should refuse at this time to secure Federal help to hold down our taxes:

The Monterey Peninsula Taxpayers Association has approved the bond issue of the Carmel Sanitary District, for $1,500,000 to re-new plant equipment and increase the capacity.

Consistent with the policy of the Taxpayer's Board of Directors the approval of the Carmel Sanitary District bond issue follows the previous approval of the bond issues for sanitary sewer improvements in both Monterey and Pebble Beach.

The Taxpayer's investigation indicates that the district is now constructing an extension of the outfall line at the specific order of the Water Quality Control Board. Money for this work is already available and is not dependent on the proceeds of the bond issue.

The Carmel Sanitary District is making a constructive step of a well detailed plan and the Taxpayers Association recommend a "Yes" vote on March 24th.

A thousand thanks for your wonderful front page in support of the Red Cross Fund Drive.

The local chapter has been very kind to our members on many occasions, and I was particularly happy to see their transportation service mentioned in your publicity.

The photography was excellent, and many of our members have been so enthusiastic about the issue, that they have brought their copies to Town House to share with others!

Thank you again!

Pacific Telephone seeks rate increase

Pacific Telephone today said it will soon seek rate increases totaling $195,000,000 annually from its nearly 6,000,000 California customers to continue to meet growing demands for quality service and to offset mounting inflationary costs and declining earnings.

The Company said its current low level of earnings — estimated at 5.82% for 1970 — is inadequate to finance construction programs totaling more than $1.5 billion for 1970 and 1971, the need for large quantities of equipment, and improved wages for its work force, all of which are essential to maintaining and improving service.

The Company said it will file a formal application sometime next week with the California Public Utilities Commission in San Francisco.

If approved, rates for basis one-party residence services would be increased by about $1.85 per month in most cities. For business customers, the increase in the cost of basic service would amount to about $3.80 per month.

Thus, in Monterey, for example, monthly bills for basic residential service would increase from $4.75 to $6.60 and for basic business service from $9.05 to $13.15. "The size of the construction program which the Company must undertake now, and into the foreseeable future, combined with the problems of operating in an inflationary economy, require an increase in rates," said Don Boston, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Manager in Monterey.

Without a substantial improvement in earnings, existing overall satisfactory levels of service could be impaired.

"Looking to the future," Boston explained, "the quality and quantity of Pacific Telephone's service is conditioned upon its ability to construct facilities early enough and in quantities sufficient to meet the public's needs.

"If Pacific Telephone is left with inadequate earnings, it will not be able to expand rapidly enough and service will inevitably deteriorate."

AFS sponsors "Reivers" at Village

The Carmel Chapter of American Field Service is sponsoring "The Reivers" at Carmel's Village Theatre for the week of March 25-31. The proceeds from the sale of the tickets will help support the various programs of AFS, which include bringing a foreign student to Carmel High for a year and helping to send Carmel students abroad. In both cases, the students live with families, attend school, and add to community life.

On Saturday night, March 28, there will be a champagne party for patrons, who will then enjoy seats in a reserved section for a showing of "The Reivers." Among those who are patrons for this gala champagne showing are: Dr. and Mrs. Louis Buzaid, Dr. and Mrs. Harris Taylor, Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Clemens, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spencer, Judge and Mrs. Eugene Harrah, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Durein, and Mr. and Mrs. Herb Blanks.

"The Reivers" is based on William Faulkner's Pulitzer prizewinning novel and is a delightful film. Steve McQueen stars in this comedy set in the South at the turn of the century. Ticket information may be obtained from Mrs. Richard Sippel at 624-1788. AFS benefits only from those tickets sold by its members and not from those sold at the theatre. Regular admission prices are $2.00 for adults and $1.50 for students.

THE BETRAYAL OF CHRIST — Judas plants a kiss on the cheek of Christ in a scene from the prize-winning film, "The Gospel According to St. Matthew." The Carmel Museum of Art is bringing the widely acclaimed film to the Carmel Village Theater for a three day showing, March 22, 23, and 24. The biblical film, directed by Pier Pasolini, faithfully follows the apostle Matthew's version of the story of Christ. It has been acclaimed as the best life of Jesus ever filmed and has been awarded the Catholic Film Office's Grand Prize. Patronage to "The Gospel According to Saint Matthew" is being encouraged by the All Together Now (ATN) student organization. The ATN is an ecumenical study group at MPC. Tickets for the three day performance may be purchased at the Carmel Museum of Art on Dolores and 7th. Group rates may be arranged by calling 624-5340 or 624-1424.

VITAL KEY — Dr. Brubaker (Dennis Weaver) calls attention to the fact that Richard Sherman (Dick Vreeland) has forgotten to put on his socks, a failing characteristic of a rapist in the doctor's new book of psychiatric studies. Sherman is doubly jolted because he has been imagining a scene of seduction when the glamorous girl upstairs arrives. This is all part of the fun in "The Seven Year Itch" which now has only five performances to go at the Studio Theatre-Restaurant.

JOINT RECITAL — Two of America's most highly acclaimed soloists, piano virtuoso Grant Johannesen and "queen of cellists" Zara Nelsova, will join forces for a recital at Sunset Auditorium on Thursday, April 9 at 8:30 p.m. Also during April, Miss Nelsova will be on a tour with the Utah Symphony that will visit 18 cities in the Far West in 18 days; Mr. Johannesen's schedule includes a recital in Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium and a series of concerts as soloist with George Szell and the Cleveland Orchestra. The couple are at present on a tour of Europe that calls for duo recitals in Frankfurt and Ludwigshafen in German; Miss Nelsova also has concerts and recitals scheduled for Vienna, Cologne and with the Concertgebouw under Bernard Haitink in Amsterdam.

CBA prepares 1970 directory

The annual Carmel Business Association membership drive has ended, according to Stan Ewig and Merv Sutton, membership chairmen for the business group.

Harriet Meyer, executive secretary of the CBA, will now begin the job of assembling the names of all members for inclusion in the yearly directory which is mailed in lots of 35,000 during the year.

Since the list has not yet been fully compiled, there is still time this week for anyone wishing to be included in the directory to join the organization.

The CBA office in the Las Cortes Court on Dolores is open from 10:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. weekdays.

Three photographers show at Friends Carmel Gallery

Friends of Photography, San Carlos and 9th in Carmel, will present a new exhibition of photographs by three photographers: E. D. Putzar, Merg Ross, and Don Normark.

Putzar, a native of San Francisco, is a subjectivist concerned with the mental reactions stimulated by viewing landscapes and with the added dimension of time as portrayed by his art with the camera. He teaches Japanese language and literature at the University of Arizona, has attended the University of California, Berkeley, and Kyoto University, Japan. He has been strongly influenced by Edward Weston, Ansel Adams, Minor White, and the group of photography students at the California School of Fine Arts in San Francisco in about 1950.

Merg Ross has an impressive list of exhibitions including the San Francisco Museum of Art; San Francisco State College; the Siembab Gallery, Boston; Harvard University; Museum of Modern Art, New York; Focus Gallery, and the M. A. De Young Museum in San Francisco, among many others. His photographs have been published in U. S. Camera, The British Photography Annual, Photography 63, Eastman House, The British Journal of Photography, as well as Modern Photography. David H. McAlpin, George Eastman House, the Addison Gallery of American Art, the Art Institute of Chicago, the Philadelphia Museum of Art and the Oakland Art Museum all have purchased his prints for their collections. He was awarded the Outstanding Achievement in Creative Art by PFA IV in 1966.

Don Normark studied photography at the Art Center in Los Angeles, the New School, New York, the University of Washington, Seattle, and Oregon Workshops with Minor White. He has exhibited at the Los Angeles County Museum, the Brooklyn Museum, the George Eastman House, Portland Art Museum, University of Oregon Art Museum, the Sheldon Gallery at the University of Nebraska, Seattle Art Museum Pavilion, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Smithsonian Institute. In addition, the following institutions have purchased his photographs to place in their permanent collections: The Brooklyn Museum, George Eastman House, University of Oregon Art Museum, and Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The show will run from March 21 through April 26. The Gallery hours are 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m., daily except Monday. The Gallery is located at San Carlos and 9th in the Sunset Center, Carmel.

The public is cordially invited to attend the preview-reception on Friday, March 20, at 8 to 10:30 p.m.

Drug education program adopted

Members of the Carmel Unified School District adopted a drug education program to be presented to students in grades 7, 8 and 9 for the school year of 1969-1970.

The Drug Education Committee, after reviewing a wide range of material, recommended at last Thursday's Board meeting that the District utilize a selection of films, books and simulation devices designed to create understanding and awareness of the problems connected with drug abuse.

"If you want to find out a child's true attitude, the best way is to ask him," said Dr. James F. Halcomb, head of the Drug Education Committee. He urged that the program be adopted and that it be evaluated year by year through analysis and interviews with the students themelves.

The Board voted to offer the program, developed by the Lockheed Co., to grades 7, 8 and 9 during the balance of this school year and then require it as a seventh grade subject beginning next fall.

Dr. Halcomb and committee member, Ralph Kahl, reported the results of interviews conducted with sutdents involved in drug usage.

Their studies revealed that the chief reasons high school students begin using drugs are to satisfy curiosity and to become part of a group.

An unexpected action item was proposed to the board as they were adjourning their mmeting. meeting.

Edward Marcus Arana of Carmel Valley called for an evaluation by parents and teachers of the effectiveness of the Carmel school system. He urged discussion and evaluation of the grading system and curriculum as well as an assessment of the standards of excellence in the District. He also called for an evaluation of the students behaviour and respect for authority.

Arana, who said that he represented a group of parents at Tularcitos school, was asked by Board chairman Hilton Bialek to submit his request in writing.

Reviews for Young Readers

by Allene Fremier

A day which is not one of my favorites is April Fools' Day. We have a new book devoted to just this one day, telling a little about how it came to be, and describing some of the fun tricks played on people. It is a simple, colorful book, stressing that April Fools' tricks should always be kind, and should never cause trouble or pain.

Another one about celebrations is Festivals For You To Celebrate, by Susan Purdy.

The book is divided into four main sections — Autumn, Winter, Spring and Summer, giving new ideas for celebrating the holidays which come with each season. For example, instead of many of the same ideas for Thanksgiving, she gives examples of how the harvest holidays are celebrated in other cultures, such as the Jewish harvest festival of Succot, or the Green Squash Festival of Mexico.

A total of twenty-nine holidays are explored, with instructions for eight-five craft projects.

We have two new books for the sports fans. Championship Teams of the NFL, by Phil Berger, is about the players and coaches of six outstanding teams that fought exciting battles for the NFL title. The teams are Chicago Bears (1940), Los Angeles Rams (1951), New York Giants (1956), Baltimore Colts (1958), Green Bay Packers (1961) and Cleveland Browns (1964).

The other book is Great Hitters of the Major Leagues, by Frank Graham, Jr. It is about eleven ballplayers who were or are outstanding hitters. The specific players included in this are Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth, Rogers Hornsby, Lou Gehrig, Hank Greenberg, Jo DiMaggio, Ted Williams, Stan Musial, Willie Mays, Mickey Mantle and Henry Aaron.

An excellent book dealing with the subject of conservation is George Laycock's America's Endangered Wildlife. In this one, Mr. Laycock, author of many other fine books on the subject, discusses over a dozen of the twenty-eight species of wildlife critically threatened with extinction and records the efforts to preserve them. This includes the California condor, prairie chicken, curlew, bald eagle, grizzly bear, the sea otter and others.

FAST ACTION — Rugby in motion can be seen at Pebble Beach March 21 and 22 when the 12th annual Monterey National Rugby Tournament takes place — when twenty teams, both amateur and collegiate compete in this benefit for the Monterey Jaycee's youth work.

Sixth grade relocation 'pros and cons' in Board debate

Parents of school children from Big Sur and Carmel Valley attended last Thursday nights board meeting of the Carmel Unified School District. Both parents and board members gave their views on a proposal by Middle School staff members that Tularcitos School in Carmel Valley and Captain Cooper School in Big Sur transfer their sixth grades to Middle School.

The Middle School staff has indicated that children who enter Middle School as sixth graders appear to have a distinct advantage compared to those who enter in seventh grade.

Superintendent Harris A. Taylor explained that there were plus and negative factors involved in the proposed action. On the plus side, Middle School teachers have reported that children who enter the school as sixth graders hold most of the leadership positions. Six graders also had the benefit of specialized facilities for crafts, physical education, foreign languages and gym activities which are not available at Tularcitos and Captain Cooper Schools.

Staff members have also reported that children entering at the sixth grade level and attending Middle School for three years provide an additional year for the staff to become aware of individual needs and abilities.

Supt. Taylor cited the transportation problem as the chief difficulty in sixth grade relocation. The bus ride would be considerably extended for students from Tularcitos and Captain Cooper school.

Board chairman, Hilton Bialek, reported that he had received memos from parents involved urging that their sixth graders not be moved to Middle School.

Parents who were present at the meeting then entered into the discussion with a question and answer session. Edward Marcus Arana of Carmel Valley asked if the parents of the children might be able to choose between their present school or Middle School. Trustee Steven H. Sassoon replied that the action was designed to relocate all sixth grade students of the district into one school.

Several of the parents expressed concern about sending their children so far away for such a long period of time. Some felt that their children were too young to make the adjustment and that parents should be allowed to decide whether or not their children were mature enough.

Don McQueen, a member of the Big Sur Property Owners Association and Vice president of the Captain Cooper P.T.A., said, "Big Sur is going to violently disagree with anything that tends to standardize...We feel that parents should have a choice." He added that Big Sur parents planned to stand together on this issue.

Carmel High School student, Maddy Dudley, told the board that she had found the long bus ride to Middle School very tedious and she felt that the sixth grade, being the oldest class in the school could set a good example for the younger students.

Parents at the meeting agreed that those who needed or wanted to attend Middle School as sixth graders should be able to do so but that the choice should be made by the parents and students involved.

As a result of the discussion, the Board passed two motions:

1 — The six grade at Tularcitos school will be transferred to Middle School beginning in September.

2 — Captain Cooper will retain its sixth grade and students will be able to attend either Captain Cooper or Middle School.

The second resolution was passed by the Board 4-1. Trustee Richard Wilsdon felt that a program for six students (the number of sixth graders at Captain Cooper) could not be beneficial enough to warrant the grade being retained.

VIRTUOSO AT WORK — Haymo Taeuber, conductor of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra, elisits a mood, seemingly by sheer physical force, during a rehearsal of the Monterey Choral Society and Symphony for "The Creation," the oratorio to be performed at 3 p.m. Palm Sunday, March 22, at the Naval Postgraduate School's King Hall. Taeuber, an Austrian conductor of worldwide repute, was guest conductor with the Vienna Symphony Orchestra for 20 years and has appeared with orchestras in London, Stockholm, Strasbourg, Lisbon and Brussels. Taeuber was the key figure in rebuilding the Vienna Boys Choir after World War II. He also organized the symphony orchestra of Teheran, Iran, and founded the philharmonic choir of Calgary, Canada. Tickets for "The Creation" are on sale at Abinante's Music Store (372-5893) and McConnell's Book and Gift Shop (375-6487) in Monterey and at the Naval Postgraduate School's Protestant Chaplain's Office in Herrmann Hall (646-2241).

SAVE CARMEL BAY !

VOTE 'YES' ON THE $1,500,000 BONDS

TUESDAY, MARCH 24

Your "YES" vote on this day will be a landmark in freeing our Carmel Bay of insufficiently treated sewage.

STOP POLLUTION

Our ultimate goal is no contamination whatever of our coastal waters.

KEEP TAXES LOW

With approval of the bond issue, the Sanitary District tax rate will increase only about 12c per $100 to 53c. Without the bond issue tax rates can go to $1.00 per $100 of assessed valuation. Even then the funds raised will not be sufficient to build the plant in time.

YOUR VOTE IMPORTANT

A "YES" vote will help keep our ocean beaches clean.

Spring Looks Like This!

Spring is Here...

A touch of Spring is Judy Harder in a Miss Mignon skirt and bolero jacket. White and red print and red chiffon blouse. At the Toggery, 7th & Mission, Carmel.

Evon Christine Day models a Victorian costume designed by Adele Bramlet, costume designer, located at the Blue Pig on Ocean and Mission, above Sprouse-Reitz. Costumes made to order, period costumes especially.

On The Cover:

Enjoying the rites of Spring in their new Spring wardrobes are members of the Lynn Trosky family of Carmel. Dad is resplendent in his blazer from Kent of Carmel. Mother (Andi) looks very "now" in her long-sleeved blue mini from Mark Fenwick of Carmel. Domini prances delightedly in her dress and parasol, both from The Bib 'N Tucker of Carmel and Del Monte Center. Young Adam brightens the local scene in his pants, turtleneck shirt and coat from Backyard for Boys, Doud Arcade in Carmel. Hairstyles by the Village Hairdresser. Our thanks to the charming Trosky family for helping us make this special section a truly unusual paean to "The Magic of Spring."

Spring is Here...

CONFUSION...

Confusion: Those who look to the fashion industry itself for a consensus discover a disunited front. In Paris, where the dernier mot is traditionally bestowed, the range of disagreement runs from thigh-high to just above the shoe tops. Saint Laurent, Marc Bohan of Dior and Givenchy all showcased the longer lengths in their spring collections two months ago. Courrèges and Chanel, however, came out shorter. "The midi is a disguise," sniffs the legendary Coco, "and in our times women don't have the right to go around in disguise." Fashion arbiters in the U.S. echo the confusion. Many young, super-hip houses plan to go all the way with the midi, while some older designers —who lived through the 1930s—regard the mid-calf length as retrogressive. "Midis might be all right for garden parties," says designer Pauline Trigère, 57, "but I haven't been to a garden party in 30 years."

Once again the lines are clearly drawn. French President Georges Pompidou has pronounced that the midi look "adds mystery to love." President Nixon likes it too, especially on Madame Pompidou. Paul Newman, on the other hand, speaks for an overwhelming male majority when he fumes, "It's absolutely shameful that designers are able to get away with something like this." George T. Smith, the lieutenant governor of Georgia, more than agrees. He recently told reporters: "If any girl ever comes in with one of those midi things on, I'll have her kicked out of the Senate."

Women also seem to be evenly polarized. Jackie Onassis, the Duchess of Windsor, Gloria Vanderbilt Cooper and Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth fancy the lowdown look, but Mrs. Robert Finch, wife of the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, speaks for an equally chic coterie when she remarks: "It looks like something I made in sewing class in the seventh grade." Among the Less Beautiful People, the dominant female mood seems best summed up by a miniskirted Atlantan named Margaret Hurst. "The midi," she sneers, "will be this year's fashion Edsel." (Miss Hurst, it should be noted, is young, pretty and possessed of excellent legs.) In contrast, a matronly Chicago housewife endorses the long look because "the miniskirts are a sign of the moral decay in our time." About the only female faction that is not raising its voice is the women's liberation movement, which regards the mini-midi controversy as just another conspiracy to keep women in subjection. "To me it's all irrelevant anyway," says New York women's liberation leader Ti-Grace

Folk music and sacred compositions will be featured when Wittenberg University's 75-voice choir presents a concert March 25 at 8 p.m. in Carmel's Sunset Auditorium.

The choir will present its Carmel concert during spring tours of cities in Indiana, Ohio and California.

Wittenberg's choir, conducted by Dr. L. David Miller, dean of the Wittenberg School of Music, will open its concert with "Gloria," a contemporary composition by Latham; "Be Thou with Me" by Franck, a 17th century composer; "O Lamb of God," an Easter Orthodox anthem by Kalinnikof; KKCantate Donimo," a 16th century motet for double choir by Croce; "Jerusalem, My Happy Home," an American folk song by Sateren and "Cherubim Song" and "Transfiguration," two recent works by Tcherepnin.

In the second portion of the three-part program, the choir will sing "The Crucifixion:: by Jan O. Bender, a contemporary composer who is on the Wittenberg School of Music faculty. The selection was written for and dedicated to the Wittenberg Choir. The presentation of "The Crucifixation" on the choir's tour will mark its first public performance.

The choir will conclude the program with selections of folk hymns, folk songs, and contemporary compositions including "Immortal, Invisible," arranged by Barbara Terry, a junior from Philadelphia.

The Music Scene

by Rachel Morton

We have here in our midst in Carmel a woman who has done and is doing much for the musical culture of our community.

Giving unstintingly of her time and talent, Nancy Ness Bowman has inspired many a singer to high artistic goals. Herself an opera singer, born in Norway, whe has lived in Carmel for many years.

Being familiar with the operatic repertoire, it was but natural that shw should form an opera workshop. The frequent appearances of this young company of singers, plus their continued success, bears testimony to the fine contribution to music that Nancy Ness Bowman has made.

Sunday afternoon in the Parish House of All Saints Episcopal Church an enthusiastic audience heard a vocal scholarship fund concert in a varied and ambitious program given by the Nancy Ness Bowman Opera Workshop. It was a program that would have taxed a highly professional group. (Anyone may sing in the Workshop once a week, whether students of voice or not — just so long as they love to sing and have a voice.)

Sunday's concert included selections from the operas of "Lakme," "Rigoletto," "La Rondine," "Faust," "Il Trovatore," "Norma," "Manon Lescaut," "La Traviata," "Orfeo" and "Madame Butterfly." There were also songs by Faure, Donaudy, Max Reger and Malotte.

The finest voice was that of Jean Canada whose rich, luscious contralto thrilled as she sang operatic arias, duets and a beautiful song by Malotte, "Song of Life."

The exciting tenor voice of Joe Messineo was made for opera, and his professional status made him unique in the company. There was a Caruso-like ring in his upper tones and his singing in the Butterfly duet was deeply moving.

A baritone voice of great promise was that of Michael Gramatikus who sang Valentin[s aria from "Faust." He sang with dramatic fervor and with beautiful tonal quality. (All he needs is time to develop and experience.)

Another outstanding talent was that of the young baritone Gregory Higgins, who received an ovation after his singing of the aria from "La Traviata." (This young man bears watching.)

Others participating included: Chui Ming Chan, Carole Moran, Leslie Goldring and Lucy Bowman. The excellent accompaniments were played by Camille Olaeta.

Town House Exhibit

Margaret Roberts, a resident of Pebble Beach for the last three and a half years, is showing her watercolors at the Carmel Foundation during the month of March. Members as well as the public are welcome to view the pictures.

Mrs. Roberts studied with Mary Traynor of Santa Rosa, Nancy Johnson of Carmel, and Jade Fon and Helen Dooley Workshops. She has exhibited numerous county fairs such as Napa, Santa Rosa, Monterey, Pacific Grove Watercolor annual, San Juan Batista, Naval Postgraduate Religious Art Show. She is a member of Board of Directors Pacific Grove Art Association.

Beatrice Ralson presented a color slide show of Switzerland last Wednesday afternoon to Carmel Foundation members and guests.

Miss Ralston has lived in Carmel for many years.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT — Nancy Ness Bowman accompanies three of her students as they rehearse for the opera workshop which was held Mar. 15 at 4 p.m., in All Saints' Church Parish Hall. The performers are Mrs. Shui-Ming Chang, soprano, left, Joe Messineo tenor and Mrs. Jean Canada, alto. The workshop was planned to raise money for the education of a promising vocalist. It included works from operas and Broadway musicals.

Brilliant cast brings 'Family Portrait' to Circle March 20

"Family Portrait," a simple, eloquent and reverent picture of the family of Jesus, will have a limited engagement of eight performances at the Circle Theatre opening March 20.

This special Easter presentation is being sponsored by the Community Theatre, and is under the direction of Michael Keller.

Twenty-one members of the Golden Bough Players Company will portray many familiar biblical characters. The poignant and beautiful role of Mary, mother of Jesus, will be played by Betty Fowlston. Mrs. Fowlston is the winner of the 1968-69 Golden Bough Award for Best Supporting Actress in "Ten Little Indians."

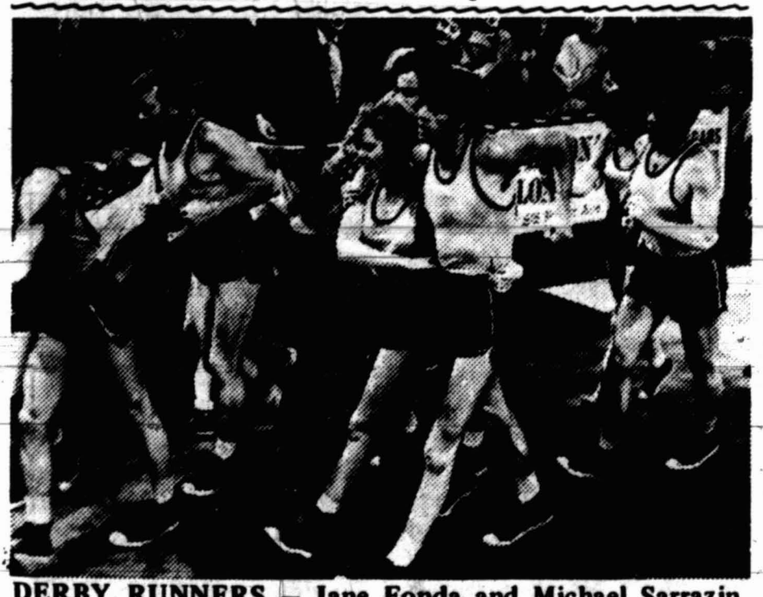
Gertrude Chappell, awarded the Golden Bough as Best Actress of the 1968-69 season for her role as Eleanor in "The Lion in Winter," will play Mary Cleoph Three more award winners in the cast are Layne Littlepage as Mary Magdalen, Bob Lotz as the peddler Matthias, and Milton Hayes in the role of the Rabbi.

The four brothers will be played by Andrew Dowd, William Q. Weiss, Peter J. Lynn, and Richard Vernon, with the sisters portrayed by Leslye Weinfield and Lada Kratky. H. Andrew Erwin has the role of Judas Iscariot, and David Eldridge plays Leban.

The large cast also boasts the talents of Kay Walter, Peg Heater, John Doolittle, Colleen Lingenfelter, Raymond Greene, Evelyn Hughes, G. Martin Iversen and Mark Lotz.

"Family Portrait" will play during Holy Week with a matinee on Easter Sunday. The schedule is as follows: March 20 and 21 at 8:30 p.m.; Sunday March 22 at 7:30 p.m.

Wednesday through Saturday, March 25 through 28 at 8:30 p.m. Easter Sunday, March 29, a special matinee performance at 2:30 p.m.



DERBY RUNNERS — Jane Fonda and Michael Sarrazin, center, find themselves part of the grueling derby — that special attraction between the marathon dance sessions — in "They Shoot Horses, Don't They?" now playing at the Regency Theater in Monterey.

'Paint Your Wagon' stars

Both Clint Eastwood and Jean Seberg, who star in the Alan Jay Lerner Production of "Paint Your Wagon" for Paramount Pictures, became screen stars in the United States through foreign-made films.

Eastwood, a Monterey Peninsula resident, after starring for seven-and-one-half years on the CBS-TV series "Rawhide" and appearing in small roles in many Hollywood films, was cast in the Italian Western "A Fistful of Dollars." The film and Eastwood were immediate international successes.

Miss Seberg, who had played the title role in the film "Saint Joan" when she was 17 years old, won world-wide acclaim and became an important personality in the "new wave" of film-making as a result of her performance in Jean-Luc Godard's "Breathless," made in France.

Petpourri

BY JUDITH EISNER

Springtime: plumes of fragrant acacia, daffodils lighting a lawn-edge, treetops tinged with new green; birds nesting, in a lush pasture, the wonder of a foal's first wobbly steps; the miracle and the madness of annual rebirth.

The California Branch of the Humane Society of the United States estimates there are more than 10 million dogs in California! They admit they have no way of guessing the number of cats. They claim that 1,000 puppies and kittens are born here every hour — and only about 200 of these will ever find homes. The remainder will, if fortunate, be put to sleep humanely by some local animal shelter or will die, far more awfully, by starvation, by amateur drowning, by being shot or poisoned or run down on the highways, or by slow suffering in some research laboratory.

Your own Monterey County SPCA is right now gloomily anticipating the beginning of the kittening season. For four months, from the end of March until well into mid-summer, they will receive an average of 50 or more homeless, unwanted kittens every day! That means more than 1,500 kittens a month, and a tragic total of better than 6,000 unwanted kittens this season alone. And, we repeat, this is only a four month "season." Although kittens are born throughout the year, it seems that every unspayed female cat must bring forth young in the springtime.

The tragedy of these thousands of kittens — and puppies, too, are received aplenty — is that for more than 75% of them, there are no homes! And that, dear reader, bluntly put, means that more than 4,500 kittens and a correspondingly huge number of puppies must be killed.

No one has ever proven that having a litter is good or necessary for a dog or cat. True, wild animals breed whenever they come into season, but Nature takes care of overpopulation.

Countless thousands of pet dogs and cats have lived full, happy lives without ever having known the burden of maternity. This has been accomplished by either spaying female dogs and cats or having careful, conscientious owners who protect their female pets from unwanted matings.

Don't delude yourself into thinking motherhood is easy or "natural" for dogs and cats. Even with the finest care and the best diet, with supplemental feedings for large litters, with early weaning and fine veterinary assistance, most females come through their 13-week ordeal (seven of pregnancy and six of nursing) out of coat, down in weight and in need of further special care to bring them back to their pre-pregnant vitality! This is why serious breeders of purebred dogs and cats won't permit a female to breed more than two out of three seasons; they know she needs the rest.

There is only one justification for producing puppies or kittens in this overpopulated animal world, and that is to produce top-quality offspring. If you have a dog or cat of excellent qualities and bloodlines (yes, a purebred) and if that animal, correctly mated, can produce even better specimens than herself, and if you are absolutely certain of finding good homes for every one of those babies, and if you are willing to devote huge quantities of time, labor and money to raising the litter.

It is your duty as the owner of a female dog or cat to prevent her from indiscriminate breeding. If you feel it requires too much attention to safeguard her, spaying is a simple, safe method of forever ending the problem. Your pet will suffer no ill effects from this operation and will doubtless live a longer and healthier life for being spared the strain of repeated breeding.

"Fulfill" your pet by making a companion and family member of her; teach your children the facts of life another way; and pity the thousands of puppies and kittens who are doomed to roam the streets and fill the animal shelters across the land.

Finland Safari

A safari, to an American, means Africa, heat and the jungle. But not to the people of Finland. In this Scandinavian Country, a safari spells winter, reindeer and the northern lights.

For centuries, the reindeer was the sole means of winter transportation in Lapland, the northernmost part of Finland at the Arctic Circle. Harnessed to a small sled, the fleet-footed animals could travel over deep snow. In more modern times, of course, a network of super-highways and cars replaced the primitive mode of travel. Reindeer-drawn sleighs became obsolete.

However, since more and more tourists have been visiting Finland, there has been a renaissance of reindeer travel. By next winter, a series of reindeer safaris will be available through Western Lapland for visitors to the country. This should prove a singular treat for adventurous Americans.

The winter safaris, winter fishing on ice, ski trekking and downhill skiing are highlighted in an article titled: "Fun in the Snow", appearing in the current issue of Look at Finland, a magazine published in English by the Finnish Tourist Board and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Reindeer round-ups, Finland's counterpart of the Western rodeo of the United States, are also discussed in the issue.

A copy of Look at Finland is available free by writing to Finnish National Tourist office, 505 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017.

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

"Bill's Birthday Party"

Straight from "A Thousand and One Arabian Nights" was the swinging surprise birthday party which Glorie gave her husband Bill Evert.

Carmel hasn't been treated with a more imaginative stage setting in Party Plans' memory. It was an exciting event. At the entrance of their Mediterranean villa near Carmel Point, an Arabian horse and donkey stood side by side held by costumed "native grooms."

Very posh with ladies in maxi evening gowns, black tie and dress uniforms for the gentlemen. Due to the ingenuity of our amazing hostess, the Carmel High School orchestra played for dancing with much enthusiasm.

A striped tent covered the terrace where champagne and an astounding variety of hors d'oeuvres were served by attractive young girls in "houri" (Carmel version) outfits.

The thrill of the night was the genuine surprise of Bill Evert. Glorie had really been able to manoeuver this beautiful birthday party without her husband suspecting an inkling....until he came back a bit late from the office. A little coercion among his staff?

Before we begin describing our reason for Party Plans' existence... food..., we'll also tell you about the lovely exotic dancer imported from the Cashah in San Francisco.

Accompanying Bahia was Tony Kahl from Syria who played the haunting oud.

The twosome brought youth, gayety and much pleasure of middle-eastern entertainment to our midst. Cosmopolitan Carmel has never been commonplace, but this occasion had something different. It combined originality with good taste. Time to talk about what tasted so good.

The fascinating hors d'oeuvres, displayed on huge brass and copper trays, consisted of an international variety. Canape bases, crackers, sliced breads of every type. All was ready for each to use his own discretion. Octopus meat; filets of mackeral; smoked salmon slices; frogs legs; smoked conger eel, oysters and clams; black and red caviar; pate de foie gras; embroyo corn on the cob (mini); pickled quail eggs from Japan in pastel colors; roasted chick peas; pistachio, almond, pine and macadamia nuts...others also; olives, Greek, Spanish, and California; cornichons, meaning pickles.

After this unbelievable assortment came the Middle Eastern specialty Kebeba: stuffed grape leaves and eggplant in bite-size pieces. No forks needed. These consisted of a magic mixture of ground lamb, cracked wheat soaked in water then squeezed dry, grated onion, salt and pepper, then stuffed into the grape leaves and eggplant shells and steamed. Glorie knows just how! She has her own magic formula. Like a true gourmet she doesn't use cookbooks, never measures, always tastes and depends on her instinctive creativity.

Trays of rare roast beef, tongue, lamb, ham, already perfectly sliced, with tiny loaves of home baked bread (the latter a gift of Marcelle Knauss, herself an expert in the culinary field); and that great dish

Rice Pilaf

One cup white long grain rice; 1/2 cup broken up vermicelli; butter; 1 t. salt and instant onion flakes, each; 1½ cups beef or chicken broth; 1/2 cup raisins soaked in 1/2 cup sherry; sliced fresh mushrooms, pine nuts.

Saute the rice and vermicelli in enough butter until golden brown; add the rest of items, excepting nuts; bring to boil, reduce heat at once, cover and simmer for 25 min. Add nuts. This amount serves 4-6 maybe.

Zucchini Souffle

In Glorie's way, this is easily concocted. The plan is to prepare her delicious dish ahead of time, store in "fridg" and put into oven at the right moment. Minus measurements, this is how Glorie does it: Boil unpeeled zucchini until barely soft, using only enough water just to cover with seasoned salt to taste. Drain, mix with fork so that "chunks" remain. Mix cream, eggs, white pepper in right amounts, depending on how many to serve. Put into huge or small baking dish. If keeping for future party, freeze. If for only a day or so, just chill. When the time comes, put casserole into preheated 350 F; oven and bake 30 min., sprinkling Parmesan over top the last 10 min.

How could anyone have a secret birthday party and bake a 5-layer cake for her husband without his knowledge? Glorie did. At least sixty admiring guests vouch for this bake-in. Bill's Birthday Cake by Glorie consisted of lower tier, chocolate; next walnut; next white with almond flavor; next spice; last were pistachio with flippant marzapan mushroom top.

How to climax? These are Glorie's "everyday" recipes, exclusively revealed for Party Plans. We'll say it takes genius, organizing ability, fortitude, to achieve what Glorie does with such ease. This gracious hostess should write a challenge to "I HATE to COOK" with "I LOVE to COOK".

Glorie's Cheese Souffle

Six slices bacon, diced; 3 T. flour; 1/2 t., each, salt and dry mustard; 1 cup milk; few drops red pepper seasoning; 1 cup shredded Cheddar and Swiss cheese, mixed; 6 eggs, separated; chopped fresh parsley.

Cook bacon until crisp, draining fat off often; remove bacon from skillet and wrap in paper toweling. Measure 3 T. drippings, return to pan. Blend flour, salt, mustard and cook until bubbly. Stir in milk and pepper seasoning. Continue cooking while stirring until sauce thickens. Add cheese. When it melts, let cool. Beat egg whites until they form soft peeks. Beat yolks, blend in cooled cheese sauce, bacon, parsley. Fold in egg whites; pour into ungreased souffle dish. Bake at 350 F. 45 min. Serve as soon as possible. Even if it falls its still glorified.

Dining Out at.... the Spinning Wheel

....with Virjy Shepley

Your gourmet guide finds that the family-type restaurant the Spinning Wheel at Monte Verde and Ocean, Carmel, is the place to take guests who want good, solid food.

Even on Sunday evening, when most of the weekend crowd has returned home, this nice spot is well attended. The courteous hosts, Messrs. Borgwardt and Weilert, who were expertly trained in Germany, know how to run their establishment with smooth assurance. One feels that everything is perfectly under control from kitchen staff to energetic, smiling waitresses.

The only disappointing note was the standard onion soup which we recalled from the former owners as having been excellent. Unfortunately, the cup was lukewarm, a bit on the greasy side and almost devoid of onions. We'll follow with our own way of making onion soup after discussing the rest of the dinner.

The salad was bountiful, iceberg lettuce with a large slice of beet on top. Well-chilled, the dressing was quite subtle. Oil and vinegar with a touch of mustard and mayonnaise to make a creamy type, and perhaps an herb we couldn't identify.

To accommodate this investigation, my guests sampled different dishes, each accompanied by a hot baked potato, fluffy yet not moist, just right for plenty of butter.

Specializing in steaks and chicken at its best, with curried prawns on Fridays, the Spinning Wheel is open Tuesdays through Saturdays from 5 to 9 and Sunday from 4 to 9. Their day of rest is Monday.

The menu consists of excellent steaks, from New York Cut, normal size or extra thick; filet mignon; ground sirloin steak; ½ broiled chicken and child's plate.

The minimum is $1.25 for children which prevents a large family from arriving en masse with several children sharing parent's plates. Highchairs are provided, but there is a spearation of sorts with ferns where the senior set may dine in comparative peace.

One of us ordered the day's specialty, Grilled Lean Ham Steak with Pineapple Ring. Suprisingly for only $2.75 this choice turned out to be especially tasteworthy. The prime beef steaks were equally satisfactory, unadulterated with wine sauces and served sizzling hot.

The ground sirloin steak is made from the tails, minus fat, of the best sirloin or even filet. It has A-1 flavor. Such a very comfortable choice. One knows it has to be superior from the exclamations of pleasure around the medium-sized room.

Tables are not placed too near each other. The service is straight from broiler to table. No dishes just sit, longing to be picked up while guests become impatient. And yet, there isn't a sense of being hurried.

Even though the kitchen is visible, there is never a sound of clatter. Nothing is stacked, but instead is individually carried by speedy waitresses. The two nice looking young men proprietors oversee unobtrusively.

There is a reliable and extensive wine list and one leaves not only with a well-fed and wined feeling, but also satisfied that the prices are reasonable.

Our version of
Onion Soup

Four T. butter; 2 T. vegetable oil; 6 medium yellow onions, finely sliced; salt and pepper; ½ t. paprika; 2 t. flour; 6 cups bouillon. Grated Parmesan or Gruyere cheese; croutons. Serves 6.

Melt butter with oil in skillet. Add onions, seasonings. Brown slowly until onions are limp without scorching which would destroy its delicacy. Add flour, stirring to make a roux. Continue to stir while adding the beef stock until it comes to a slow boil. Simmer gently 20 min. Divide into earthenware individual "marmites" (pots with covers). Sprinkle tops with grated cheese and brown quickly under broiler. Pass croutons and extra grated cheese at the table. Serve piping hot!

IBM watercolor exhibit at PC History Museum

"American Drawings and Water Colors," an IBM touring exhibition, will be shown at the Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History Mar. 5 through Mar. 22. The 25 works include the most celebrated names in American water color.

Water color, though used for centuries by both amateurs and professionals, was long considered a minor medium until the 19th century when many serious artists turned to it as a major means of expression.

The exhibition is one of nine touring art shows and four touring science shows that IBM lends to museums, colleges, universities and other non-profit institutions throughout the country in more than 100 locations annually.

The museum is located at the corner of Forest and Central Avenues in Pacific Grove. Hours are daily from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Poetry Corner

Helen Searight Faulkner, well known to readers of the Poetry Corner, was reluctant to set down the highlights of her life for the Pine Cone for fear "79 years of biography might turn out slightly sloying."

A former high school teacher in San Mateo, Mrs. Faulkner received her Master's Degree from the University of California. However, she was originally a New Yorker, and earned her B.A. at Smith College.

Her long association with Carmel dates to the 1920's and 1930's when she and her husband owned a cottage, "Green Gate," at Carmel and 11th.

Their two sons are Dr. Robert Faulkner of San Mateo and Thomas Faulkner of Oakland.

She presently calls herself a "casual gardener and versifier."

HOME CALLING

Life was an idyll,
Love was the tune,
Till currents tidal
Stormed our lagoon.

Hurricane voices
Battered our quay,
Howled you harsh choices,
Swept you to sea.

Listen no longer--
Reefs lie ahead!
Hear tides call stronger
Toward home and bed

Let their wave slinging
Surge you to shore
And their song, clinging,
Loose you no more.

Helen Faulkner

COMPANION

Snug, seemly house,
Aproned in sunlight, wordlessly benign,
How fortunate, these intimate years with you!
Accept my heart's late gratitude,
Forgiving the conceited brain
That used to fancy your benevolence
Mere mirror to my own goodwill.
Here this last day I know,
Yourself alone restored and framed for me
This masterpiece, home – home.
For you have been companionship,
Activity, remembrance, warm content,
Laid all in harmony
Across the canvas of your care,
Reflecting the rainbow hours and kindling peace.

Helen Faulkner

BLUE SUNSET

Blue jeans, squaring baby curves,
Press close the picket fence; blue eyes
Beam welcome through
To a puppy bouncing up the shadowed grass
Toward this blue-sunshine creature.
Small fingers, col tongue meet; and affection
Kindles between two friends.
Oh, why
Must Mother's voice come calling?
"Roger? Hurry, dear, it's late."
Two years twitch, two more ears refuse to listen.
"R-R-Roger!"
Now the home-world shall be served,
This brief safari ended.
Slowly blue jeans back away,
Reluctant feet submit to following
The voice past fence, round corner, out of sight.
Long shadows hush the street.
The puppy, carven, waits, nose sniffing hope--
It must be his blue sun will shine again!

Helen Faulkner

DEATH MASK

Your photo came today and I was glad
To find the recent visage almost you,
The look unscarred, though unrevealing too.
This person will not let one see her sad;
But oh, that other of a year ago,
That mute epitome of marbled grief!
Such pale unliving might be past belief,
Were not the cause an earthquake widows know. . .
To share our being for a time so long,
To hope a husband's hopes, to feat his fears,
To laugh together down companion years:
This is to build our world secure and strong.
Then one day temblor strikes; and that is when
We die, too – yet may seem to live again.

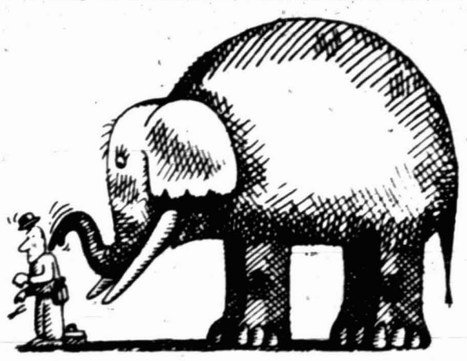
THE PHONE BOOTH



Probably some of the most amusing on-the-job incidents reported by telephone employees come from installers. While dogs are traditionally the bane of postmen, they rarely encounter an alligator or elephant. Not so with the installers, who are trained and equipped to put in and maintain telephones just about anywhere.

One Bell System installer, for example, was confronted by a five foot alligator in the basement of a customer's home. ("Just a pet," the owner blithely explained.) Another installer had to fight off the affectionate attentions of 15 dogs which a customer was keeping in a 2 room flat. And then there's the installer who found himself trapped in the equipment room of a sports arena by an elephant who wouldn't budge from the doorway. The tales are endless, but such incidents are part of the job for these hard-working men—who'll face just about anything to bring you good telephone service.

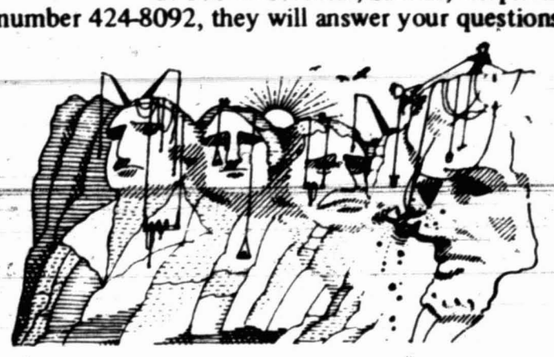
You may be filling out a new 1040 income tax form this year that combines the old 1040 and 1040A forms. If you have a tax question, our nearest Internal Revenue Service office is at 100 West Alisal, Salinas, telephone number 424-8092, they will answer your questions.



With movie star Lee Marvin as host-narrator, the Bell System will present "It Couldn't Be Done," a color television special paying tribute to American "builders of the impossible." Air date is Thursday, April 2. Check your newspaper for time and station.

The program will salute the people who achieved such projects as Mt. Rushmore Memorial, the Panama Canal, Golden Gate Bridge and Holland Tunnel. Musical accompaniment will be provided by The Fifth Dimension.

Openings for MPC photo workshop

A few openings remain for participants in the photographic workshop to be conducted by Ansel Adams and a staff of other well-known photographers March 24-28 (Easter Week) at Monterey Peninsula College.

The workshop, co-sponsored by MPC and Friends of Photography, will stress photographic printing techniques and will include, for each participant, a darkroom session with Adams in his studio-workshop in Carmel Highlands.

The fee is $100, with members of Friends of Photography and MPC students granted a 10 per cent reduction. A $10 pre-registration fee, deductible from the total fee but not returnable, should be sent to Stephen James at the college, with checks made payable to Monterey Peninsula College. A detailed workshop schedule will be sent each registrant.

No more dogs?

"I'll be dog goned!" is an expression for the MPC campus these days.

All the dogs are gone, really.

MPC Dean of Student Personnel Jack Bessire, who has on two previous occasions issued edicts banishing unleashed dogs from the campus — with little effect — has now received unanimous support from the student parliament to evict all leashed or unleashed dogs except seeing-eye dogs used by blind students.

The new regulation reads, simply: "Dogs are not permitted on the Monterey Peninsula College campus."

"It may be the Year of the Dog," in the Chinese calendar Dr. Bessire commented in the student daily bulletin. "But to continue to honor the canines by permitting their presence on campus in questionable at best and dangerous at worst." is questionable at best and dangerous at worst."

Reasons cited for the regulation included "disturbances and distractions in the classroom," "damage to campus shrubbery," "deterring use of the lawns" and the possibility of dog bites.

The regulation went into effect on Monday. Student dog owners were advised to make "arrangements" in the meantime "so that they will not have to bring their dogs with them next week. Violators will be subject to compus disciplinary procedures, and dogs will be subject to impoundment."

Interest reduced

Bank of America has announced an immediate cut in the discount on 8½ per cent FHA and VA loans to 4 points. The prevailing discount nationally has been 5½ to 7½ points.

The bank will also increase its allocation of funds for residential housing in 1970 by $100 million, which represents an increase of about 25 per cent over 1969.

Both these moves are intended to help stimulate the housing market which has lost momentum during the recent period of very tight money.

Peninsula Potters demonstrate Raku

Making pottery by the 16th century Japanese Raku process is filled with action and excitement....spinning mud shaped by skilled hands....red hot pottery held delicately with steel tongs....smoke boiling from buckets of sawdust....all topped with anxiety over the hope of emerging beauty as the finished piece is lifted from the water tub, and the soaked, charred sawdust scrubbed from perhaps a sparkling platinum surface interlaced with mossy greens and browns.

Unlike the conventional days-long method of producing pottery, Raku ware is done in a matter of minutes, from lump of clay to finished piece.

All this activity will be featured at a free demonstration from 11 a.m. onward, on the next two Saturdays, March 21 and 28 at the Peninsula Potters Co-op, 221 Hoffman St., Monterey, near Cannery Row.

Baha'i Church's weekend meeting

While The Carmel Community was sponsoring its own weekend Conference of Education, some one thousand Baha'is from across the nation attended a three-day National Baha'i Conference on Education held at the National College of Education February 20-22. Among these attending were, Donald McLean, Chairman of the Carmel Baha'i Community, William Stover, of the Seaside Baha'i Community and Marvin Newport of the Pacific Grove Community.

The conference heard several speakers stress the need for more moral and spiritual education and made recommendations on education to the National Spiritual Assembly of the Baha'is of the United States, the national Baha'i administrative body.

Dr. Daniel Jordan, School of Education, University of Massachusetts stated that the Library of Congress will double in the next ten years as a result of the knowledge explosion. He pointed out that we cannot continue just stuffing information into people in our educational process. We need rather to develop competent learners. The main problem on education is to base all our processes of development on man's spiritual nature — on man's relation to the cosmos.

Other speakers at the conference included Dr. Dwight Allem, dean of the School of Education, University of Massachusetts; Edward Carpenter, headmaster of Harlem Prep in New York City; Mrs. Victoria DeLee from Dorchester, South Carolina and member of the National Investigating Board on Nutrition and Hunger; Gary Hillaire, an Indian of the Lummi tribe and member of the Baha'i Indian Council; Poova Murday, a space engineer from Mauritius Island in the Indian Ocean; and Richard Thomas, poet and student at Michigan State University.

The Conference was the first of a series of conferences being held by the U.S. Baha'i Community in observance of International Education Year (1970). Future conferences are scheduled for Benedict College, Columbia, S.C.; Kansas City, Mo.; Eugene, Ore.; and New York City.

The gallery is presenting a "Social Comment" show, planned to prick the conscience of our affluent society during the coming Holy Season. The emotional appeal to mankind is the message. The medium: stark, elongated figures of pure balance and line. Other artists represented include Millard Sheets, Ross Van dusen and C. Craigh Bowen.
